Embedded Microcontrollers

The MCS® 251 microcontroller is the next generation 8-bit MCS 51 microcontroller from Intel with unequaled value, performance and ease of design features for high-performance 8-bit solutions. For additional 8-bit price performance in an embedded controller, the MCS 48 and MCS 51 microcontrollers are the industry choice. If you need 16-bit performance, the industry-accepted MCS 96 microcontroller product line may be your answer.

We have combined all of the technical information for these three industry-accepted architectures into one comprehensive volume. This databook contains complete product specifications, datasheets and architecture descriptions.
